Title: Get a Handle on You. (GabrielCastiel)

Fandom: Supernatural.
Pairing: Gabriel/Castiel
Rating: PG.
Summary: It's a nice tie.
Notes: What? Castiel really does have a nice tie.

"You haven't figured these out yet, have you?" Gabriel was far, far too close, tugging on the neck-wear that Castiel had once watched Dean tighten.

"It is clothing," Castiel said, glancing at the blue tie. "Why?"

"You keep it half undone all the time. It's inviting." Gabriel had an odd look in his eyes, one that Castiel didn't trust.

"I do not understand."

"It's like you're just inviting me to do this - " Gabriel yanked on the tie, pulling Castiel's lips down into a surprised kiss.

Gabriel took the moment to lick Castiel's lips before pulling back, hand still holding the tie firmly. He was grinning.

"What - " He couldn't help but be confused. Why was Gabriel doing that, why was he -

Gabriel tugged on the tie again, initiating another kiss.

When he pulled back, Castiel's hands were on the tie, eyes wide and spooked.

"Delicious, Castiel. You picked a good vessel." Gabriel grinned and let go of the tie. "Ask your Romeo to fix up the tie again, or I'll have to do it for him."

And he snapped his fingers, vanishing.